EUREKA! THE SECRET FOUND.

Medical men have been for ages in search of an infallible cure for RHEUMATISM, without success; but the desideratum has at length been discovered.

HEALY'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

IS WARRANTED TO CURE THE MOST OBSTINATE CASES OF CHRONIC OR INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

This disease is incidental to the climate of California, and thousands in this country are hopelessly suffering from the effects thereof. This Liniment supplies the want so long needed; it relaxes the muscles, removes the pain, and restores health and vigor to the system.

Mr. Healy is in daily receipt of testimonials from parties who have used the Liniment, and the following well known citizens are among the number:

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6, 1866.

MR. HEALY—Dear Sir: Having witnessed many cures effected by your Rheumatism Liniment, I take great pleasure in universally recommending it to those in search of a really good article. Yours, &c.,
FRANK S. SCUDDER.

MR. FRANK HEALY: I suffered considerable rheumatic pains in both shoulders, for a long time. I tried many remedies to get relief, but to no purpose. I was advised to try a bottle of 'Healey's Rheumatic Liniment,' which I did, and it has greatly relieved me. I am now using the second bottle, and am confident that in a few days I shall be well. Yours, &c.,
P. PAGE.
San Francisco, Feb. 9, 1866. 316 Montgomery str.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10, 1866.

To F. HEALY: I have heard much and seen practical proofs of your Liniment, and I endorse all you claim for it. L. GOETZ, 315 and 335 Battery str.

To F. HEALY—Dear Sir: Having heard of your Liniment for the cure of Rheumatism, I procured a bottle and used it, and find from the relief I experienced that it is an invaluable article, and something that every person should have who is subject to Rheumatism.
Very respectfully, &c.,
JUDGE SAM'L E. WETHDREL,
Late of Virginia City.

San Francisco, Feb. 12, 1866.

MR. HEALY—Dear Sir: I have used your Liniment for the cure of Rheumatism, and can cordially recommend it as a most invaluable remedy for that painful complaint.

THE FEMALE PILOT.

An English brig-of-war lay off the southern coast of the Island of Firee, which is one of the Hebrides, on the western coast of Scotland. And the brig had just captured a prize. She had been sent up after smugglers, and had taken one of the most notorious of the smuggling crew—a stout, bold, reckless man, named Donald Kenmore. He was commander of a smuggling vessel, and the chief spirit among the contrabandists of that section.

When Kenmore knew that his vessel must be taken if she remained above water, he deliberately knocked a big hole in her bottom, and sank her where she lay. His crew were sent off before he did this, and they made their escape. He retained a light skiff, hoping to make his escape also. His daughter was with him, she having refused to leave the vessel before him. They had entered the skiff, but while they stopped to see the old vessel go down, a boat came from the war-brig and cut them off. It was too late now to escape, and Kenmore saw that resistance would be useless, so he gave himself up with as good grace as possible.

Flora Kenmore was eighteen years of age, and possessed of all the rugged beauty of her Highland countrywomen. Her eyes were large, their glances could be as soft as the whispers of love or as piercing as the glare of the enraged lion. She was not large in frame—far from it—but she was stout and strong, and her very step was the language of pride and self-control. A nobleman could have loved her most dearly, but a coward would have trembled with conscious littleness before her. She was taken with her father, and carried on board the brig-of-war.

"Ah, Donald Kenmore," uttered the commander of the brig, as the smuggler was led to the quarter-deck, "you and I have met before."

"Ay, Captain Thornhill, we have," returned the smuggler in a calm, proud tone. "Twice I have captured, but now your turn has come. But Captain, what is now to be my fate?"

"I should suppose you might judge," was the Captain's reply.

"I may guess, but I suppose you might know, sir."

"Well, sir, I can answer; you will meet one of two fates—you will either be transported for life, or be hung."

"So I supposed," said the smuggler, without the movement of a muscle.

The commander was now called to attend to making sail, and Kenmore was led away forward and put in chains. Flora requested that she might be allowed to accompany her father, and the request was granted. She was offered a berth in the cabin, but she chose to remain at her father's side.

About an hour after the brig had made sail, the first lieutentant, a stout, coarse fellow named Wooler, came up to where Flora stood, and placing his hand upon her fair neck, he asked her for a kiss. She started back, and while her eyes flashed fire, she drew a small pistol from her bosom, and cocked it.

"Miserable dog!" she uttered, in a low, firm tone, "dare to place your foul touch upon me again, and you shall die!"

"Tut, tut! my pretty bird," cried Wooler; "you wouldn't be so cruel."

But his voice trembled, and his frame shook with the mortification he tried to hide.

"I think you will not tempt me, at all events," the maiden returned, with biting irony.

The lieutenant bit his lips; and his fists were clenched; but he dare not go farther, so he turned away and walked aft. From that moment the crew looked upon the maiden with admiration. They did not like Wooler in the least.

It was afternoon when the brig squared away, and as the wind was light and baffling, she made but little headway. It was past four o'clock when she passed Eraid, and by that time the wind had died almost to a calm, but not a pleasing calm. The heavens had grown dark, the air cold and puffing, and ere long the brig lay under close-reefed topsail and fore staysail.

At sundown the wind came in from the southward and westward, and by the time night had fairly settled down it blew a gale. The captain tried to keep the brig under the three sails he had left on, but the wind was too strong. It blew a perfect hurricane, and the sea began to rise and break over the deck; and ere long it became evident that one of the topsails must be taken in.

It was a bad place in which to be caught thus. Thornhill knew that he must be near the mouth of the Sound of Mull, and if he lay to the gale would tend to drive him into it. He was not acquainted with the place; and though he had good charts, yet he did not feel safe.

Higher and higher grew the furious wind, until the very sea seemed dancing over the frail bark. The masts groaned and creaked, the rigging grated and strained, and every crack and seam gaped beneath the fearful strain. The wind howled and roared, and the mad sea surged and boiled, until the whole scene appeared but the result of a furious war of the boisterous elements.

At midnight, Captain Thornhill began to be frightened. The wind was not only unabated, but the rain had begun to drive down, and the night was as black as one solid mass of ink.

"Wooler," he said, as he drew his oiled jacket up over his face to protect it from the driving rain, "can you not hear the roar of breakers ahead?"

"I have thought I heard them for some time," said the lieutenant, holding firmly by the lifeline to prevent being washed by the breaking sea.

"And yet we can do nothing," the Captain resumed, being obliged to cry out with all his might to make his voice heard above the roar of the elements.

"To vary an atom would be sure destruction. But we cannot live much longer. Every rope and stick is strained now to its utmost. Oh! if we had room to run off before it."

"But we haven't," was Wooler's earnest response.

Yet the brig lived through the night, and when the morning dawned the wind seemed to increase rather than to diminish. It was near the autumnal equinox, and there was every prospect that the storm would be a long one. The rain fell in torrents, the heavens were dark, and the air was piercing. Thornhill had no idea of his whereabouts, for how far the brig had been driven by the fury of the night he could not tell, yet he supposed that he must be somewhere near the chops of the Sound of Mull.

It was a few minutes past six when the Captain was startled by a loud cry forward, and on working his way thither he found that the foremast was sprung just above the pipe rack. He had hardly discovered the danger when another shout from the poop called him aft, and hurrying back again a sight met his gaze that made his heart leap with horror. Directly under the lee quarter, and not over a quarter of a mile distant, was a bold, rocky coast, over which the sea was dashing fearfully. And all along, too, to the northward the same horrid scene extended.

"Good God!" cried Wooler, at this moment, pointing over the weather bow, "there are more rocks there! See! See! We are surrounded."

The men were called, but not one of them knew the shore.

"Bring forward Donald Kenmore," shouted Wooler.

"Ha! we will," answered the Captain. And the smuggler was sent for.

He came on deck; he had been carried below when the storm reached its fury, but he could not tell where the brig was.

"But," he added, "my child has been a pilot on these waters for over four years, and there is not a rock or shoal in all the Sound of Mull she don't know."

"Ha! Donald Kenmore, do you speak truly, now?"

"I do. Until within a month she has been with her brother, and has almost lived among the rocks of the Sound."

Flora Kenmore was sent for at once. She came up, and taking her station near the wheel, where she could hold on upon one of the life lines for support, she gazed carefully around. It was truly a terrific scene. On all sides now, save on the weather quarter alone, the huge breakers were piled and stretched along. Not a muscle of the meiden's body quivered, nor did her cheek blanch, but boldly she stood there, and her gaze was calm and assured.

"Lady," said the Captain, whose frightened look was in strange contrast with the expression that rested upon Flora Kenmore's features, "do you know where we are?"

"I do, sir—exactly," was the sure reply.

"Ha! and can the brig be saved?"

"Ay, sir. In less than two hours the brig can be run into a harbor where the storm would be but a summer shower."

"And can you do it?"

"If I try."

"By heavens! then do it! Do it and any sum you name shall be yours."

"Hold!" said the noble girl, "I want not your gold; but you have a thing which, if you will give it back to me shall secure your salvation."

"What!"

"My father. Give me my father and you shall be saved!"

"But he is a State prisoner. I have no right to give him up."

"Then you decline my services."

"But consider my dear girl, your own life is at stake. If we go you must go with us."

"I know it, sir, and I am prepared for it. What's my life worth to me if my father must be ——. But you may depend upon this, I can save you. Give me back my father—swear it that we may go away unmolested when your anchors are safely down, and you shall be saved. If you will not do this, then your hours are numbered. I know where you are, and without the aid of one who knows these rocks this vessel cannot ride an hour longer!"

"Give him up!" cried Wooler, whose face was as pale as death. "Be sure you won't bend her an atom."

The Captain dared hesitate no longer. The rest of the officers seconded Wooler's request, and he gave in.

"Save us!" he said, turning to the maiden once more, "save us and your father shall be free!"

"Do you swear this?"

"I do—most solemnly; and I call on all present to witness that when this vessel is safe, if your father and yourself go not where you will, I am a perjured wretch! And now the helm is yours."

On the instant Flora started into new life.

"Lay the yards square!" she cried at the top of her voice. "Ease up the helm! Let two faithful men take the wheel!"

These orders were obeyed, and ere long the brig was dashing off before the wind. An opening was made in the rocky coast ahead.

"That is Lungs on the quarter," the maiden said, "and ahead we have a dozen small islands. Here comes the Devil's Rock on the starboard bow, and that on the left is McDonald's Crown. Port a little! Steady—so!"

The hearts of the men leaped up, and there seemed to hang for some moments. But on went the flying vessel—the heavy spray actually dashing over the deck from the towering rocks, and now on this hand, now on that, and yet she went safely on. If she had gone through such a dubious channel, then why should she not pass the rest.

The men became more easy; even though the horrors were as palpable as ever. The course of the brig lay through a hissing, rushing, tumbling surge, with rocks still on every hand. And there stood the fair pilot, her keen eyes flashing, her finely chiseled nostrils dilated, and her noble form drawn proudly up. Her orders were prompt and assured, and confidence was in every look and tone.

At length the vessel entered a narrow strait not over a mile wide, and the course was direct. It was the main land of Argle upon the right and the Island of Seil upon the left. In half an hour more the strait was passed—another group of rocks cleared—and yet the gallant bark flew safely over the storm-mad sea.

"Stand by the braces!" cried Flora, now showing a little excitement. "Mind your helm! and round in carefully on the larboard braces! Keep the others taut! Helm a port! easy—easy!"

The brig bowed to the wind most fearfully now that her side was presented to it, and the masts bent like reeds—but she failed not. A high promontory was passed—and in a few moments more the hard labor ceased. The brig righted, the masts had grown straight and the sails had done straining. The water moved only in long swells, and as the men looked abroad through the falling rain, they saw the smooth haven stretching up into land—a haven into which the southern storm demon could not come, but where the weary bark could be at rest. It was the long narrow inlet of Kilmore.

At length sail was taken in, the anchors dropped, and the men crowded about the fair pilot to bless her for the service she had done them. But she asked not their thanks, though she could not refuse their gratitude.

"I have saved my father," she said, "and that is all in all to me. Let us both go on shore now."

"But not in this storm," urged the Captain.

"Yes," persisted Flora. "We are not at home here, but on shore I shall find a sheltering roof, and open arms to receive us."

Captain Thornhill felt too grateful to make any objection, and he had a boat lowered at once.

"God bless you!" he said as he grasped Flora by the hand; "and when in time to come, we call each other to mind, I trust you may feel something of the friendliness towards me which I must ever cherish for you." Then he turned to Donald—"and to you Donald Kenmore, let me say, God grant I may never meet you again when the duty of my station could make you my enemy. Farewell!"

And in a few moments more the smuggler and his child were on their way to the shore. A sheltering roof soon spread its protection over them, and warm friends welcomed them to the fireside.

Donald Kenmore and John Thornhill never met again, for Kenmore's noble daughter, shortly after the startling adventure we have recorded, gave her heart and hand to a man who had loved her long and truly, and their father found a home with them.

THE RAILROAD CONDUCTOR CAUGHT.

"Halloo, Limpy, the cars will start in a minute; hurry up, or we shall leave you behind!"

The cars were waiting at a station of one of our Western railroads. The baggage master was busy with checks. The men were hurrying to and fro with chests and valises, packages and trunks. Men, women and children were rushing for the cars and hastily securing their seats, while the locomotive snorted, and puffed, and blowed.

A man carelessly dressed was standing on the platform of the depot. He was looking around him, and seemingly paid little attention to what was passing. It was easy to see that he was lame. At a hasty glance one might easily have supposed that he was neither a man of wealth nor influence. The conductor of the train gave him a contemptuous look, and slapping him familiarly on the shoulder, called out:

"Halloa, Limpy, better get aboard, or the cars will leave you behind!"

"Time enough, I reckon," replied the individual addressed, and he retained his seemingly listless position.

The last trunk was tumbled into the baggage car. "All aboard," cried the conductor. "Go in Limpy!" said he as he passed the lame carelessly dressed man.

The lame man made no reply.

Just as the train was slowly moving away, the lame man stepped on to the platform of the last car and quietly took a seat.

The train had moved on a few miles, when the conductor appeared at the door of the car where our friend was sitting. Passing along, he soon discovered the stranger whom he had seen at the station.

"Hand out your money here!"

"I don't pay," replied the lame man quietly.

"Don't pay?"

"No, sir."

"We'll see about that. I shall put you out at the next station!" And he seized the valise which was on the rack over the head of our friend.

"Better not be so rough, young man," returned the stranger.

The conductor released the carpet-bag for a moment; and seeing he could do no more then, he passed on to collect the fare from the other passengers. As he stopped at a seat a few paces off, a gentleman who had heard the conversation just mentioned, looked up at the conductor, and asked him:

"Do you know to whom you were speaking just now?"

"No, sir."

"That was Peter Warburton, the President of the road."

"Are you sure of that, sir?" asked the conductor, trying to conceal his agitation.

"I knowhim."

The color rose a little on the young man's face, but with a strong effort he controlled himself, and went on collecting his fare as usual.

Meanwhile Mr. Warburton sat quietly in his seat—none of those near him could unravel the expression of his face, nor tell what would be the next movement in the scene. And he—of what thought he? He had been rudely treated; he had been unkindly assisted with the infirmity which had come perhaps through no fault of his. He could revenge himself if he chose. He could tell the Directors the simple truth, and the young man would be deprived of his place at once. Should he do it?

And yet, why should he care? He knew what he was worth. He knew how he had risen by his own exertions to the position he now held. When, a little orange peddler, he stood by the street crossings, he had many a rebuff. He had outlived those days of hardship; he was respected now. Should he care for a stranger's roughness or taunt? Those who sat near him waited curiously to see the end.

Presently the conductor came back. With a steady energy he walked up to Mr. Warburton's side. He took his books from his pocket, the bank bills, the tickets which he had collected, and laid them in Mr. Warburton's hand.

"I resign my place, sir," he said.

The President looked over the accounts for a moment, then motioning to the vacant seat at his side, said:

"Sit down, sir, I would like to talk with you."

As the young man sat down, the President turned to him a face in which was no angry feeling, and spoke to him in an undertone.

"My friend, I have no revengeful feelings to gratify in this matter; but you have been very imprudent. Your manner, had it been thus to a stranger, would have been very injurious to the interests of the company. I might tell them of this, but I will not. By doing so I might throw you out of your situation, and you might find it difficult to find another. But in future, remember to be polite to all you meet. You cannot judge a man by the coat he wears; and even the poorest should be treated with civility. Take up your books, sir. I shall tell no one of what has passed. If you change your course, nothing that has happened shall injure you. Your situation is still continued. Good morning, sir."

The train of cars swept on, as many a train has done before; but within it a lesson had been given and learned, and the purport of the lesson ran somewhat thus—"Don't judge from appearances."

MODEL GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—"Did you ever study grammar?"

"I did, sir."

"In what case is Mr. R?"

"He is an objective case."

"How so?"

"Because he objected to pay his subscription that's been owing over three years and a half."

"Right. What is a noun?"

"Don't know, but I know what a nopown is. Running off without paying the printer and getting on the black list as a delinquent."

"Good. What is a conjunction?"

"A method of collecting outstanding subscriptions in conjunction with the constable, never employed by printers until the last extremity."

"That's right. Go to your seat and quit throwing wads at the girls."

NO SCHOLAR.—The following testimony was lately given before the Election Committee of the British House of Commons:

Bicus, a shoe maker, took £15 to vote one way, and then voted for the other party. When asked why he did so, he said:

"Because my principles were that way."

"But your principles did not prevent your taking the £15?"

"My principles were wavering, but they tended that way."

"At all events, according to your own story, you took the £15 to go one way, and went another?"

This rather posed the witness, but he scratched his head and said:

"Well, I'm no scholar."

A TOPER gave as a reason for getting married, that his acquaintances thought he drank too much for a single man.

THE young lady's request—"Make me an offer."

BULLY EYE DOCTOR.—A gentleman tells us the following story, and vouches for it as having occurred to himself. Some years ago he lost an eye, and having a taste for comely personal appearance, he had the loss of the member atoned for by the insertion of a glass eye. The counterfeit was a perfect counterpart of the other, and except those who were told of the fact, none would have imagined him to be the "bully boy with the glass eye." Two or three weeks ago the seeing eye began to inflame, and knowing, by sad experience, the danger of neglecting a sore eye, he determined to consult an oculist, and not knowing which was the proper one to go to, was unfortunate enough to fall into the hands of a man who practises the profession, but who, until within a short time, has been engaged in the butchering business. Calling upon the "celebrated oculist and cerist," he told him that his eyes were afflicted with disease, and he feared he would lose them. The quack examined the optics, and pronounced them an easy cure. In fact, he would warrant a cure in two months, and he would heal them up at a low figure, only ten dollars a week for treatment.

"What do you think of my left eye, Doctor?" asked our friend, whose faith was not very strong.

The Doctor examined the left optic very carefully for several moments, and then said, "I find the epitahlium slightly opatic, with considerable subcutaneous conjunctiva in the cellular region of the corneal schirrhosis."

"Can the thing ever be cured?" asked the patient, who was convinced the fellow was an unmitigated humbug.

"Oh, yes, I can cure that in a very short time I have some vegetable acid which I extract from a plant known only to myself, which will render the eye perfectly well in three weeks."

"Do you really mean to say that I can see out of that eye again? for to tell you the truth I have not been able to see out of it for a long time."

"To be sure I do, just as well as I do out of mine. This 'ere vegetable acid of mine is really wonderful; there are not any eyes that can resist it. It fixes them all."

"Then you can go ahead on that one, and if you fix it all right, I will let you attend to the other one."

The Doctor took out a large syringe, filled it with his vegetable acid, and approached our friend for the purpose of making an application, when he raised his hands to his eye, opened his eyelids, took the glass optic from its socket and handing it to the operator, said:

"Doc, I haven't time to stop for treatment; you can keep the eye here, and as soon as you get it to see, I will call and get it."

The oculist's "pheelinks" can be better imagined than described.—S. F. Call.

UNCERTAINTIES OF THE LAW.—The Troy (New York) Whig tells a story of a case in that State:

In 1855 a man man was run over on the Hudson River Railroad, and his wife sued the company for damages. The case was first tried before a Justice and the plaintiff nonsuited. She then appealed to the Supreme Court, and the nonsuit was taken off. She got $2,500 damages. The railroad company appealed this time, and the fourth trial was had in the Supreme Court, the verdict of $2,500 being affirmed. The railroad company appealed again and the fifth trial was had before the New York Court of Appeals, which reversed the former decisions and ordered a new trial before a Justice. This gave rise to the sixth trial, which came off before another Justice who nonsuited the plaintiff. She again appealed, and the seventh trial took place before the Supreme Court, which this time affirmed the nonsuit, but the lady appealed to the highest Court, and the eight trial was held before the Court of Appeals in April last. This Court reversed all former decisions, and sent the case down to the Justice to begin over again. Thus, after eleven years contest in the Courts and eight trials, the case is back where it started in the Justice's Court in 1855. The ways of the law are tortuous, indeed, especially when a poor woman attempts to fight a big railroad corporation.

CONSEQUENCE.—A lady who gave herself a great many airs, and supposed herself of much more consequence than any one else thought her, being one time in company with a very witty person, was willing to impress him with some idea of the same.

"Sir," said she, addressing her discourse to him, "when I was getting into the train to come down to this place, there were three young men in it, who were so struck with my appearance, that they instantly got out to give me the choice of seats."

"Indeed, miss," said the wit, "they could not have done more for you if you had the small pox.

AN EQUIVOCAL COMPLIMENT.—It is scripturally asserted that "long hair is a glory to a woman." Some look well with it short; but as a general thing in the words of a cotemporary, when a lady in short hair simperingly requests our appearance, we are reminded of an old deacon who had a carroty-headed clerk that spent most of his time and all of his attention, to the cultivation of a saffron-colored moustache and who asked the old man how he liked it. The deacon regarded him attentively for some time, with anxious solicitude apparent on his benign countenance, and impressively said to him, "That if he lived long enough, was blessed by Providence, enjoyed good health, slept well a night, had good luck and no pull backs, he would look like h—ll in six months."

DIED FOR WANT OF SENSE.—A genius out west, conceiving that a little powder thrown upon some green wood would facilitate its burning, directed a stream from the keg upon the smoking pile; not possessing a hand sufficiently quick to cut this off at the desirable moment, he was blown to a million pieces.

The Coroner reasoned out the verdict: "It can't be called suicide because he didn't mean to kill himself; it wasn't a visitation of God, for he wasn't struck by lightning; he didn't die for want of breath, for he hadn't anything left to breathe with. Its plain he didn't know what he was about; so I shall bring in "died for want of common sense."

SHOCKED HER MODESTY.—Knight's Landing is a very nice place. They had a foot-race there the other day, for a cool hundred. The Independent says a beautifully dressed young lady, sitting in front of a ten-pound waterfall, saw one of the wind-splitters come on the course, clad in tights. They fitted him so well that the fair damsel conceived he was out-doing himself, and the Georgia major. She put her hands up to her face and, peering through her fingers, screeched out, "Why, you n-a-s-t-y man! I hope you won't win.

A YOUTH who much desired to wear the matrimonial yoke, had not sufficient courage to pop the question. On informing his father of the difficulty he labored under, the old gentleman replied, passionately: "Why, you great booby, how do you suppose I managed when I got married?" "Oh, yes," said the bashful lover, "you married mother, but I've got to marry a strange girl!"

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 1, 1866.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,

Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

NAPOLEON SNUBS US.—The Empress Carlotta, of Mexico, has, contrary to previous reports, succeeded in securing the consent of Napoleon III to allow the French troops to remain in Mexico until January. This, it will be remembered, is a direct violation of the pledge made to Seward that the removal should commence in November. In view of this state of affairs the Sacramento Union intimates an opinion that our Government will extend the same aid to the liberal cause that France does to Maximilian, and points to Sheridan as a fit Commander-in-Chief for the Republican forces. If the slightest reliance could be placed the principles professions, pledges or honor of President Johnson or in the back-bone of Secretary Seward we, too, should confidently anticipate that Mexico would prove the third Napoleon's Moscow. We must confess, however, that the harsh teachings of bitter experience have left us destitute of faith, "even as a grain of mustard seed." If Johnson, as President, had ever redeemed a positive pledge; practised that in which he professed to believe or given a single evidence of sympathy with liberal ideas, or if Seward had ever been bold in the face of a threatening foe, we might reasonably calculate on a response to the Frenchman's perfidy which would redound to our national honor. But, while we may indulge a faint hope unsustained by reason that they may follow a new inspiration, we are compelled to credit Napoleon with his proverbial acumen in thus selecting a safe quarter in which to strike a blow for the restoration of French love for national glory, so lately humbled in the field of European diplomacy. Trusting that we may be mistaken, we will risk our reputation as a seer on the prophecy that the Administration will either back squarely down by accepting any explanation Napoleon may offer, or that Steadman or some man of his ilk, will be preferred to the author of the suppressed New Orleans dispatches, if our Government concludes to act boldly. We state the "back-down" as our favorite proposition, but propose the second for the sake of "hedging."

SPOT HIM!—A theatrical company headed by Mr. L. F. Beatty, an actor possessed of greater ability and versatility than is usually to be found in strolling companies, visited our town and advertised performances for Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Owing to the ignorance and persistence of their agent, one JAMES FLACK, the admission fee for Wednesday evening was fixed at one dollar in the bills. The consequence was that the Company played to a slim house. The Colleen Bawn was advertised for Thursday evening, the admission fixed at fifty cents, and a large concourse was gathering to witness the performance, when a difficulty, which is explained in a card of the Company in another column, broke up the arrangements and dispersed the audience without an exhibition. It seems that this agent, FLACK, had made deliberate arrangement for swindling, not only the lessee of the Theater, the Hotel keeper and the printer, but his employers, comrades and traveling companions as well. Prompted by the indications of a full house on Thursday evening, he perfected arrangements for a speedy exit from our midst as soon as he had gathered the evening's receipts, fleeing, thief-like, with his stolen booty, while his too-confiding companions were laboring to yield its equivalent to their patrons. The Company received an intimation that a team stood ready-hitched to spirit away the scheming scoundrel and took measures to nip his villainous calculations in the bud. So far as we are losers in this matter, we entirely exonerate the members of the Company from blame, they, as well, as we have been victimized by this contemptible, petty thief, whose genius only fits him for a third-class purloiner of unhatched chickens. We would advise the public, wherever this FLACK may make his appearance, to be particularly sure to hide away even their addled nest eggs. Should the above meet the eye of the aforesaid FLACK, he may, if he likes, credit us with a complimentary benefit.

DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.—It is with unfeigned pleasure that we notice an evidence of the prosperity of the Auburn Stars and Stripes, evinced by an addition to the number of its columns. That paper will now be able to furnish its readers with an addition of nearly one-third to the standard reading matter which has hitherto characterized it. In congratulating the proprietor on his ability to make this change we are heartily sincere. We trust that the editor will not as completely misapprehend us as he recently did when we tried to indulge in a little innocent facetia. By the way, friend Stripes, the change attracted our instant attention on receipt of your last issue, and would have elicited as instant notice and congratulation, but your arrival was delayed until we were ready for press, whereby the pleasure derived from the contemplation of your improved appearance was disagreeably mingled with fears that your tardy issue had been occasioned by a relapse of editorial neuralgia.

RECHERCHE ENTERTAINMENT.—Miss Eliza A. Pittsinger will give a series of Poetical Readings at the Theater in this place, on next Monday evening, and also at Alta on Tuesday evening. Miss Pittsinger has won considerable and quite enviable renown as a poetess, several of her contributions to the American Flag newspaper of San Francisco having attracted marked attention, and having been extensively republished throughout this and the Eastern States. Critics in whom we have always found it safe to rely give Miss Pittsinger credit for a just conception of poetry and elocutionary powess of a high order. Poe's "Raven," the "Eagle," an original production of Miss Pittsinger's which has been translated into the German, French, Italian and Spanish languages, besides several other poems, including comic and pathetic pieces, will be produced. We feel safe in assuring our readers who attend entire satisfaction.

WATER SCARCE.—We understand that the lakes from which our ditch-owners derive their water-supply are beginning to recede, and our miners may prepare for a lessened supply for a while.

SOMETHING ROTTEN.

Our knowledge of anatomy is but limited—our surgical skill is defective, but neither is the former so circumscribed nor the latter so defective but that we have become painfully aware that somewhere on the Dutch Flat corpus corporate, there is an excrescence which demands the use of the editorial scalpel. We are credibly informed that one single attorney of this place has been engaged in no less than sixty-eight criminal actions within the hundred days last past!

We do not positively know it to be the case, but we consider it fair to assume that there have been some cases in which this attorney has not appeared. Accepting the statement about the sixty-eight as correct, we will venture to assume that there have been seven others, making a total of seventy-five criminal actions in this small community within one hundred days! The natural inference that any resident of a civilized country would draw from this statement would be, that disorder and riot was the rule in our midst, and that quiet and good order were the rare exceptions. We appeal to our resident readers—do the facts sustain any such conclusion?

So far as we may accept our personal observation as a guide, we have rarely, if ever, resided in a more quiet, peaceful community than that of Dutch Flat and vicinity. And yet this quiet and peaceful community presents a catalogue of criminal prosecutions that puts to shame the palmiest bowie-knife days of Vicksburg or Natchez!

Are we under the dominion of malice and prejudice, or are we justified in concluding that many of these prosecutions have been frivolous and unnecessary? If, as we are informed, there have been but five convictions during the period named, that fact would seem, in some degree, to fortify our conclusion. Now, while we would be heartily gratified to see all of those who derive profit from this state of affairs, accumulate unlimited fortunes by legitimate means, we protest that the damning of the reputation of our town, the heaping up of cost to the county and the ruin of the private character of those who are frivolously prosecuted, is paying entirely too dearly for gilding private, individual whistles. If the effects of the evil to which we now advert were limited to the injury of the social reputation of our town and the needless expense to the county, we might, possibly, have foreborne publicly noticing it, but, in blasting the character of poor men whose worldly wealth is limited to their good name and their ability to earn a livelihood by the sweat of their brows, the evil assumes a form so aggravated that we feel compelled to denounce it.

We will cite an instance in point—we know not how many there may have been, within the prolific "hundred days" of a like or more aggravated character. An aged German, of good countenance and respectable appearance, who resides at Gold Run, where he has a wife and family of children, and who is a constant and industrious laborer, chanced to pass the slaughter-house of Mr. Walker as he was coming into town, and espied a couple of guns standing against the building. One of these was a fine and valuable, the other an almost worthless gun. The old gentleman took the latter and, in plain sight and within thirty yards of the building, proceeded to secrete it beside a log and cover it with chips. While he was thus engaged, Mr. Walker, greatly excited, pounced upon him and walked him off to the custody of the constable. A moment's consideration would have suggested the improbability that any sane person intending theft should take a worthless in preference to a valuable article, when both were equally convenient, or, having taken it, should proceed to secrete it on the public highway and in full view of the premises from which it was taken.

Naturally, some other explanation would be sought for a proceeding so anomalous. Soon after recovering from the fright and surprise which naturally accompanied his violent arrest, the old man offered an explanation which was at least plausible. He stated that he had supposed that the slaughter-house belonged to Mr. Roth, a butcher of this place, with whom he had traded for the past eighteen months, and that he had hidden the gun to have a "lark" on Roth, and make him pay the lager for finding it. Whether this statement be true or false we do not pretend to say, but we hold that its ingenuity, if false, is wholly irreconcilable with the absurdity of his previous actions if he intended theft, while a consideration of his poverty and laborious life, together with a proper regard for the feelings and interests of his wife and children would certainly have prompted a mind in which an atom of common Christian charity had lodgement, to give him the benefit of the doubt and accept the explanation. On the contrary, the poor old fellow was vigorously prosecuted through two trials before the rigorous demands of Dutch Flat justice could find sufficient satisfaction to discharge him. Possibly the old man was guilty—certainly the county has been put to considerable fruitless expense, the old fellow's reputation is clouded and a stigma attaches to the names of his innocent little ones.

We submit to our readers whether we are not securing elocutionary displays for the benefit of our children, and maintaining a school for the improvement of attorneys a little to expensively by such proceedings as the above.

Is there no balm in Gilead?

Are there no means of abating legalized nuisances?

Is there no surgery capable of removing this wen from the body politic?

A PERFECT FIT.—Jones, formerly and for many years a resident of Siskiyou county, "put up" at one of our hotels a few evenings since, and, on retiring to the room assigned him, said Jones, who is notedly a close observer, ascertained by the inscription on the trunk of his room-mate, that said room-mate bore the famous linen-dealing name of "Ward." In the morning, Jones, having risen before his room-mate, descended to the dining-room, took his breakfast, went to the desk, settled his bill, and requested the landlord to inform Mr. Ward that he had complied with his request, and, after examining closely and finding the "trade-mark" all satisfactory, had "tried Ward's shirt." Jones also desired the landlord to notify Mr. Ward that he had found it what it purported to be, a "perfect fit." Jones was entirely satisfied—we have had no report from Ward.

PLACER ON THE "MAIN QUESTION."

Pride in the staunchness and reliability of Placer county Unionism is, and has long been, the chief and controlling weakness of the writer hereof. At no time more fully than just in the present momentous crisis in National affairs, have we felt completely justified in entertaining this sentiment. We have used constant and industrious endeavors for sometime, to obtain reliable information as to the sentiment of our party throughout the county. The result has been gratifying to the full extent of our most sanguine expectations. In no single instance have we heard of the defection from the regular Union fold, of a single individual, who would, by his neighbors and intimate acquaintances, have been regarded as a perfectly reliable Union man, at any time during the late war. To the best of an opinion which we consider well-informed, there are not twenty-five open and avowed Johnson men—defenders and advocates of "my policy"—among those heretofore recognized as members of the Union party, throughout the entire length and breadth of Placer county. A meager fifty would, we are sanguine, include the above and all who are undecided or who are not open and unequivocal in their adhesion to the Congressional plan of re-construction. Of this meager fifty, candor compels us to admit that there are perhaps a paltry half dozen who have, at one time or other during the rebellion, been generally accredited with loyalty, but all such of whom we are advised have either been bolters from the action of the majority on frivolous pretexts, or are under the ban of the party for moral or official delinquincies. With these few exceptions, the defected are of the weak-kneed, wishy-washy or camp-following and time-serving classes. This showing, which we are positive is not exaggerated, is necessarily extremely gratifying. Along with our gratification, we derive a lesson from this state of things, which, in our estimation, adds force to a suggestion hitherto made through these columns. All who are at all familiar with the facts, must know that it is highly probable, if not certain, that the very men who are now dallying in uncertainty—those who maintain a stubborn reticence—are likely to be the loudest and most forward in proclaiming unflinching and unchanged Unionism, when the true and ever-faithful have, by manfully defending the right in the hour of peril, won the good fight.

In view of the imminence of the present crisis, and of the importance of firmness and decision of character to successfully carry us through it, we not only favor but consider essential an early roll call. We are not disposed to see those who fight manfully shoulder to shoulder, bear the brunt and win the fight, left subject to any risks of having the fruits of their hard-earned victory to be enjoyed by those who were too timid or politic to avow their sympathy or co-operation in the hour of danger. To avoid with certainty a result such as we have indicated, the Unionists of Placer cannot afford to await our next regular county canvass. Before the time for that shall have arrived, our brethern of the Atlantic States will have fought the decisive battle, and if, as we cannot doubt, their banners shall have been victorious, the time-servers will have taken the head of our column. This should not and must not be. The issue between Grant's army and that of Lee was not more clearly defined than that of to-day between the policy of President Johnson and the loyal majority of Congress. There is no room nor valid excuse for hesitation in giving the aid of voice and moral influence in favor of imperilled right in this its greatest crisis. Hence, we again urge upon our friends in the various precincts of our county to take immediate steps to procure an early expression of the popular voice.

ARE THEY SINCERE?—If the San Francisco Examiner, the Marysville Express, the Amador Dispatch and the Placer Herald are sincere in their professed endorsement of the Philadelphia Address, candor and a due regard for fair play will compel the admission that some good has come out of Nazareth. Especially indicative of the approach of the political millenium which they promise us, would we regard their hearty and sincere acceptance of the principles contained in the following excerpts: "The war was carried on by the Government in the maintenance of its own authority, in defense of its own existence, both of which were menaced by the insurrection which it sought to suppress." "All the rightful power it [the General Government] can possess is that conferred, either in express terms or by the fairest implication by the Constitution." "It was that power and that authority which the rebellion sought to overthrow." "The victory of the Federal arms was simply the defeat of that attempt." "The Government throughout acted on the defensive. It sought only to hold what was its own. Neither the war nor victory changed the Constitution. The war was carried on by virtue of its provisions and under the limitations which they prescribe." If the above-named papers honestly and sincerely accept the doctrines herein so plainly set forth, and retract all which they have heretofore published of a contradictory nature, and if admission into the fold of the new party is limited to those who thus honestly accept the one and retract the other, we are free to confess that the country would be in less danger in case of its accession to power, than we have been prone to claim and believe. Will the Examiner, Express, Dispatch and Herald fairly, squarely and unequivocally avow their belief that the Federal Government prosecuted a strictly defensive war, by virtue of the provisions and under the limitations of the Constitution? If so, why did they, or how could they oppose the prosecution of such a war? That they did oppose it is patent to the world and a matter of record. If they are honest in their endorsement of the above extracts, their former antagonism to their principles was a culpable and disloyal error. The return of loyalty to a manly breast that has inculcated disloyal sentiments, would insure the recantation of the dangerous errors. Nobody expects any such recantation. Nobody believes that any change has occurred which would justify it. Nobody believes that these men are honest in their professions. Nobody supposes that any such conditions are exacted or expected to qualify them for full fellowship in the new party. No candid man will claim that we hazard aught in making these assertions.

THEATER NOTICE.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

DUTCH FLAT, August 30th, 1866.

The Manager of the Theatrical Company begs leave to offer to the public the following explanation of the non-performance of the Troupe on the night of Thursday, the 30th inst. The agent of the Company having usurped the entire control of the financial department and it being satisfactory to the members that he intended to receive and hold the receipts of that evening, without liquidating the indebtedness of the company to the citizens of Dutch Flat, unanimously requested Mr. Beatty to receive all moneys for the performance that evening, and pay all indebtedness. This Mr. Flack refused his assent to, and furthermore would not allow any disinterested party to receive and disburse the receips as per order of the company; but took it upon himself to dismiss the ladies and gentlemen as they arrived at the Theater. Not wishing to create a breach of the peace, the company were compelled quietly to see a large number of their patrons turned away, and having no other means of redress are thus compelled unwillingly to throw their grievances upon the public, who can rest assured that THE COLLEEN BAWN will be presented on Tuesday evening, Sept. 4th, without fail, and we very respectfully subscribe ourselves the servants of the patrons of the drama.

DOINGS OF THE "DUTCH FLAT SNIPE CLUB."

Our modest little town has lately become the highly honored home of a young man from San Francisco who, by his own candid admission, falls but little short of being possessed of every conceivable item of information within the universal range of human knowledge. This downy-faced youth doesn't pretend to deny that he is thoroughly posted on every subject which is broached or broachable in his presence. He has traveled more extensively, seen stranger sights and knows more than anybody. The possession of one thus gifted would be a treasure to any community—it of course is to one so unpretentious as ours, and our boys have fully appreciated it as such. The consequence has been that the aforesaid young man has, to a great extent, enjoyed "the freedom of the city." Among other exceptional privileges, the "Dutch Flat Snipe Club," membership of which has heretofore been restricted to pioneers and permanent residents, as a tribute to the pre-eminent abilities of the distinguished stranger, concluded to fling wide their doors and "take him in." He was accordingly duly initiated and received a card gratuitously conferring the highest honors of the organization and guaranteeing all the privileges enjoyed by the oldest members. As before remarked, this action was purely exceptional, and a unanimous vote was considered necessary, to the effect that it was never hereafter to be cited as a precedent for future action. Shortly after this, by rare good luck to the young neophyte, reliable information reached town that the pine woods and gravel-points some miles below here were swarming with myriads of plump mountain snipe. A meeting of the Club was immediately called and it was resolved that midnight of last Saturday should be the time, and the head of Squire's Ravine the place for a general hunt. Doubtless our readers are all familiar with the fact that about midnight is the time usually selected by snipe for decending from the tops of the tall trees to pick gravel—at all events, such was declared to have been the experience of the Club. Consequently, agreeably to arrangement, the members turned out in full force a little before midnight on Saturday night, and proceeded across deep cañons, up steep points, and through dense thickets to the chosen rendezvous. Arrived there, a captain was selected whose duty it was to assign the places of those present. Before he had fully prepared his lists, however, our young friend from the city, forward and ardent as usual, claimed and was accorded the "post of honor," i. e., he was allowed to "hold the bag." No old snipeist will require any explanation of the duties of this position, but, for the information of others, we will state that it is customary on such occasions, to erect an arbor of pine brush, so small as not to attract the attention of the snipe, in which the "bag-holder" crouches and holds a large sack, with the mouth distended to receive the lards as the "drivers" send them in. Owing to the necessity of maintaining strict silence and standing half-bent, the position of "bag-holder" is extremely arduous and wearisome. Our young friend having snugly ensconced himself in proper position, and having extended the mouth of the sack to its utmost capacity, the "drivers" dispersed for business. No sooner had all the arrangements for a "grand haul" thus been perfected, than, most provokingly and importunely, a rumor was circulated that there were serious difficulties in town, between the constabulary force and parties from Alta. On the strength of this rumor the "drivers" made a "bee line" for town, forgetting, in their hurry, to notify the highly honored holder of the bag. The latter, with a degree of patience only inferior to his wondrous fund of knowledge, maintained his cruelly cramped position until daylight, when, after an hour or two of disconsolate wandering in search of the road, he was enabled, for the trifling sum of one or two dollars, to secure Chinese pilotage into town. We are happy to state that the "kink" in his back, resulting from his snipe-hunting experience, though painful, is not likely to be permanent. It is to be hoped that, in conjunction with the other members of the Club, he may meet with better luck hereafter.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.—Bigler and Purdy, it is reported, have been assigned the control of the dispensation of Federal patronage in California. Reference to our advertising columns will inform our readers that Messrs. King & Schwab have purchased the Placer Brewery. Now, King & Schwab are energetic, enterprising young men—they have an eye open to the "main chance"—they have heard the Bigler-Purdy rumor and stand ready, immediately on its confirmation, to multiply their capacity for brewage indefinitely.

GIVE THEM A LIFT!—The members of the Theatrical Troupe, who were so outrageously victimized and left in the lurch by their Agent, on Thursday evening last, will perform the Colleen Bawn at the Theater on next Tuesday evening. They propose to fill the space between the elevated seats and the orchestra with arm-chairs and other comfortable seats, for which those who can afford to pay for ease will not grudge an additional half dollar. One dollar will be charged for seats in this improvised "Dress Circle," and fifty cents for those in the body of the house. We bespeak a full attendance on the occasion.

EMBROIDERED DRESSES.—The fashion of having embroidery on cloaks, ladies' dresses, and in fact, garments of almost every description, is rapidly on the increase in this country, imported, as are other fashions from Paris. Fortunately for the ladies, the crisis has not caught them unprepared, and left them with no other means of ornamenting their articles of dress but the tedious and tiresome one by hand. There is at least one of our popular sewing-machines (GROVER & BAKER's) which is adapted to both sewing and embroidery—the latter as well and as rapidly as it sews the plainest sewing.—New York Evangelist.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS!

A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC,

CORRECTIVE AND ALTERATIVE,

— OF —

Wonderful Efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, whether arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system, or produced by special causes.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME. A genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fierce excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of balsamic herbs and plants, with the mildest and purest of all diffusive stimulants.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be appreciated. In case of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to reinforce and re-establish them.

The weak Stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA, such as loss gon-firmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apparient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habits, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and somachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers every where, and by FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs entrance either Montgomery or Sacramento streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long afterward patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptoms: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc, The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo, and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, and numbness of the body. Some of the most common symptoms are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter, as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system, DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures.

Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief

Female Monthly Pills.

DR. PERRAULT is the only agent in California for Dr. BIOT'S Female Monthly Pills. Their immense sale has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other remedy for suppressions and irregularities, and other obstructions in females. On the receipt of five dollars, these Pills will be sent by mail or express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE.—Dr. Maggiel is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all-healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, sed no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that MAGGIEL'S BILIOUS, DYSPEPTIC AND DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. Which for Burns, Scalds, Childblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin MAGGILL'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine street, New York, R. H. HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. Dec-3m

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by detraction of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

AT LEAST two-thirds of the Diseases with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the Blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and a long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well-known Chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which he has combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potas, and succeeded in producing a Medicine that, while it is entirely harmless in every particular, will in short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect ROBUST HEALTH. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale at the United States Drug Store, corner of Bush and Powell streets, San Francisco, and by Dr. D. W. Strong, Dutch Flat. 4tf

RHEUMATISM.

Throughout this Coast a great deal of suffering is experienced from Rheumatism. Weeks and even months of protracted and aggravated misery is endured by the victims of medical insufficiency and ignorance, which could be cured just as speedily as was Mr. SPARROW, whose testimony is given below, and is only the echo of hundreds of other cases. Dr. Bourne cures without medicines, which accounts for his extraordinary success.—No. 10 Masonic Temple, Post street entrance.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6, 1861.

DR. BOURNE:—Last winter I was nearly dead, by an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered the most excruciating pains for about five weeks, without any hope of relief, when a friend hearing of my illness, called to see me, and assured me that if I would stop "drugging and doctoring," and go to you, that you would have me walking about the streets in three days. Sure enough, although I was utterly helpless, and conveyed to your house in a carriage, lifted into the bath, yet, on coming out of it, dressing, assisted by myself, doing much however, without assistance, walked from the bath to the carriage. On the fourth day, I discharged my carriage and walked, with a friend's aid, the entire distance to your house (nearly a mile) and home again, and on the fifth I felt myself a well man. And now I am happy to say, restored to the enjoyment of good health and in fine spirits, I offer you this little service of publicly certifying to the simple truth, leaving it to do its work among my friends and acquaintances as may chance to see this.

Your friend,
JOSEPH SPARROW.

CONSUMPTION.

An Interesting Letter.

Very few persons, even among physicians, would have been willing upon any terms to have been in the condition of the writer of the following letter on the 15th of February last. I will anticipate somewhat his report of the facts by saying that on the 15th of August last he made me a visit, "the very picture of health." Time, which tries and proves all things, has sufficiently tested this case, and shown that neither relapse nor collapse have followed; the cure is perfect; and can be cited among the scores of similar cases the result of my improved mode of treating diseases without medicine.

G. M. BOURNE,
Water Cure Physician,
No. 10 Masonic Temple, Post street

SACRAMENTO, April 30, 1865.

DR. G. M. BOURNE—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure and satisfaction that I now let you know of my good health. Looking back upon what I have passed through, it seems as if I had been lifted from the grave, and I think it my duty to acknowledge to you and the world the benefit I derived from water treatment as administered by you in your celebrated baths. It was in August, 1864, when disease first developed itself with a severe cough. It then took me to bed, getting worse with chills, fever, loss of strength, and was pronounced consumptive. This confined me to my bed, sicking, and finally I determined to leave my business and go to the Sandwich Islands, having been informed that I could not be cured here. I went to San Francisco and while waiting for a ship called upon Dr. Bourne, who stated that a trip to the Islands would probably result disastrously, was wholly unnecessary, as I could be speedily cured at his establishment. I passed myself under his treatment, and in one week was much improved. I thought I could risk returning home and do my duty as Engineer on the Central Pacific Railroad. The Doctor objected, but I thought I knew better, and returned to duty. In about two weeks my cough returned, and I kept getting worse, and contrary to Dr. Bourne's injunction never to take medicine again, committed that folly, and soon was so completely run down that I could scarcely walk; so, as a last resort, I concluded once more to try the Water Cure. I went to San Francisco—few of my friends expecting me to return—in fact, I felt myself my return doubtful. On arriving at Dr. Bourne's establishment (February 14, 1865,) I was not able to go into the bath without assistance, but in a few days I began to recover myself again. I remained with him only six weeks, when I felt "a wiser and better man," without the aid of medicine. I have now been at work several weeks, and find that I am gaining every day, and at present bid fair to be stouter than ever before. Persons visiting the Doctor's establishment find it just what it should be, both in the Ladies' and Gentlemens' Departments, and I cannot say too much in praise of the Doctor's kind attentions to his patients.

This letter I write for the benefit of all the afflicted, to be used as the Doctor decides, and should it be the means of directing any to his care and treatment who (as they assuredly will) find relief, I will be paid for my trouble.

JAMES CAMPBELL,
Engineer Central Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 23, 1865.

Advised by the undersigned, Mr. James Campbell, of the Central Pacific Railroad, (who was then in a most deplorable state of ill health,) placed himself under the care of Dr. Bourne, the Water Cure Physician. Some six months afterward he visited the city, when I accidentally met him at Dr. Bourne's establishment, and am happy to say, restored to the enjoyment of good health and in fine spirits, JOHN SULLIVAN.

☞ Dr. Bourne treats all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs—which includes diptheria, brochitis, incipient consumption, pleurisy, croup, etc.—with greatest success. Great relief is afforded in advanced stages of consumption. Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, fever and ague, dropsy, etc., are also cured quickly, pleasantly and economically. No medicine whatever.

Consumption Strong of an Interesting Letter.

SACRAMENTO, November 22, 1865.

DEAR DOCTOR:—I received your letter a few days since asking for my photograph, which I will attend to as soon as convenient. At present I am very busy, on account of the stormy weather, being out at all times, both night and day, and am enjoying very good health, apprehending no danger, if properly careful, as every one should be. I have read my letter in the "Call" and other papers, and have been asked several times concerning it, and whether it is correct, and I say I can vouch for its contents, and more if required,

FACTS VS. THEORIES.—"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Archimedes, "and I will move the world." "Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Mr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think Maggiel's Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr. Maggiel's Preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serves.—Valley Sentinel.

THE man that makes a joke without intending it often amuses us more than the most ingenious of professional jokers—as when the milkman in a play is charged with putting calves' brains in his milk, he answered:

"Brains! I never had such a thing in my head."

It was the same sort of a case when a juryman having asked the judge to excuse him from serving on account of deafness, the latter said:

"Couldn't you hear my charge to the grand jury?"

"Yes, I heard it, but I couldn't make any sense of it," said the man.

A WOULD-BE WAG attending a wedding party in the country, accidentally had a pair of infant's shoes in his pocket. Here he thought was a chance for some fun; so, going up to the newly-made bride, he gave her the package, with the remark that it contained something that would be useful to her after awhile. The lady opened the package, critically examined its contents, then turning to him, remarked:

"I am much obliged to you for the present, but if I had married you, I wouldn't have needed them."

A NEGRO woman was relating her experience to a gaping congregation of color, and among other things she said she had been in heaven. One of the ladies of color asked her:

"Sister, did you see any black folks in heaven?"

"Oh! get out! you s'pose I go in de kitchen when I was dar?"

"Sir," said a culprit, as the sheriff was carefully adjusting the rope, "really your attentions deserve my thanks. In fact, I do not know of one I would rather have hang me." "Really," said the sheriff, "you are pleased to be complimentary. I do not know of another individual it would give me so much pleasure to hang!"

A TALL fellow persisted in standing during a performance, much to the annoyance of the audience, and was repeatedly requested to sit down, but would not, when a voice from the upper gallery called out: "Let him alone, honey, he's a tailor, and he's resting himself." He immediately squatted.

An editor thus compliments a brother editor: "Mr. Brown is a clear thinker; ready and vigorous writer, and a first-rate fellow "to boot."

ALL loyal men are in favor of paying the rebel debt when it is due, viz: "Six months after the recognition of the independence of the Confederate States."

A DOGMA is defined as an opinion laid down with a snarl.

REASONS WHY THE AMERICAN WATCH, Made at Waltham, Mass.

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle. Its frame is composed of SOLID PLATES. NO jar can interfere with the harmony of its working and no sudden shock can damage its machinery, (itself famous for its novelty, as well as for its effectiveness) and is therefore properly made. The watch is what all mechanism should be—ACCURATE, SIMPLE, STRONG AND ECONOMICAL. Except some high grades, too costly for general use, foreign watches are chiefly made by women and boys. Such watches are composed of several hundred pieces screwed and riveted together, and require constant repairs to keep them in any kind of order. All persons who have carried "ancres," "lepines" and "English Patent Levers," are perfectly well aware of the truth of this statement.

At the beginning of our enterprise, more than ten years ago, it was our first object to make a thoroughly good low-priced watch for the million, to take the place of those foreign impositions—the refuse of foreign factories—which were entirely unsaleable at home and perfectly worthless everywhere.

How well we have accomplished this may be understood from the fact, that after so many years of public trial, we now make MORE THAN HALF OF ALL THE WATCHES SOLD IN THE UNITED STATES, and that no others have ever given such universal satisfaction. While this department of our business is continued with increased facilities for perfect work, we are at present engaged in the manufacture of watches of the very HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY, unequalled by anything made in the world. For this purpose we have the amplest facilities. We have erected an addition to our main buildings expressly for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. Now machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate delicacy and exactness. The choicest and most approved materials only are used and we challenge comparison between the grade of our work and the finest imported chronometers. We do not pretend to sell our watches for less money than foreign watches, but we do assert without fear of contradiction, that the same money our product is incomparably superior. All our watches, of whatever grade, are fully warranted, and this warrantee is good at all times against us or our agents in all parts of the world.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE
Established by
DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850,
FOR THE CURE OF ALL PRIVATE DISEASES AND ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,
536 WASHINGTON STREET.
SAN FRANCISCO, : : : : : : : : : : : CALIFORNIA

NO CURE, NO PAY.

Consultation by letter, or otherwise, FREE. For direction of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT,

Cures are always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhea and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostrate; Seminal Weakness: Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency: Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, NO PAY REQUIRED, at the

Private Medical Institute,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHŒA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, disgust for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

Sent by Mail or Express, to any part of the State. The GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE! PREVENTIVE POWDERS for MARRIED LADIES. New, Safe and Infallible, lasting from four to six months. Price, $10. TO THOSE WHO ARE ABOUT TO BUY or Subscribe for the Campaigns of GRANT AND SHERMAN,

Read the following recommendations and decide which of the HEADLEY'S Books you will take:

J. T. HEADLEY has a NATIONAL reputation as a Historical Writer.—American Flag.

He has great command of language, and describes scenes, and places, and men, with singular clearness and felicity. The style is brilliant.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The heroic deeds of our gallant Generals are thrillingly told, and from first to last, the book is one of absorbing interest—Contra Costa Gazette,

No subscription books have equalled in popularity those of J. T. Headley.—Marysville Appeal.

This work is the most complete History of these Campaigns which we have seen; and Mr. J. T. Headley, by his spirited style, has given it more than the interest of a romance.—Californian.

We do not hesitate to say it is one of the very best and most popular works ever offered to the public—Oregon Sentinel.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE!

These Life-giving remedies are now given to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle-aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a remedy, specific, and startling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

AN ETERNAL SPRING!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.

These Famous Remedies!

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed, These remedies are made from the purest

Vegetable Compounds.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal internally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

THE GREAT REBELLION!

Much anxiety has been manifested by the Reading Public during the past few months to see the completion of this History, which was commenced at the breaking out of the Rebellion, by the

HONORABLE J. T. HEADLY,

America's most popular author. The Publishers now beg leave to announce to the public, that the Work is completed and ready for delivery; finished in the finest style of the book-making art; containing 1208 closely printed royal octavo pages on fine paper—embellished with seventy-four splendid STEEL PLATE engravings of all the leading Generals and Public Men NORTH and SOUTH, and Spirited Scenes of Naval and Land Engagements which bring the reader face to face with the very conflict. In the preparation of this work the author has trac'd in the footsteps of the Rebellion, not only in the field, but in the councils of political and diplomatic bodies, following closely each day's proceedings NORTH and SOUTH, giving every

Order, Proclamation, Battle and Event,

In the order in which they occur, with an impartial review of everything of interest making it a Complete History of the Rebellion.

Mr. Headly's "Sacred Mountains;" "Washington and his Generals;" "Napoleon and his Marshals" which have given him such fame as a writer, are but a prelude to the copious and fascinating descriptions portrayed in this his greatest work—which instead of grating on the reader's ear with the cries of death, leads him gracefully to the sublime achievements of heroism until it reaches a plane of contemplation that is imposing.

This work is for sale by subscription. AGENTS WANTED TO CANVASS FOR IT IN EVERY COUNTY AND TOWN ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

IMPORTANT
MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was promulgated by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance lauded at the new system, circulating base stories of its ill success, and manufacturing imaginary cases as proofs. Time has demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathetic system is the leading idea in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contended to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathists; finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the machine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic Instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be more advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several "electric" Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any ameable disease, which he will send with full instructions to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease to be applied, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to directions and more especially in cases of female troubles, where great care and caution are necessary to a favorable result. Disease (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no institute in the State where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the unwary from falling into those dens of robbery (yclept quack doctors' dens,) and hereafter the scientific originators of this Institute will not be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. Here is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be raised with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent it from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable, suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the catalogue of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number.

Resident Physician, on the premises. With these remarks we leave the interests of the Institute to the public, asking only the same generous confidence and patronage thus far awarded to it. The record shows over twenty thousand consultations, and a very large amount of suffering relieved.

Persons wishing to consult the Resident Physician by Letter, can do so with the utmost confidence. All letters must be addressed plainly, J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Box 1945, San Francisco, Cal. All letters will be destroyed or returned, as directed by the writer.
